Plane noise 'threat to racing industry'

■ BAN THE BAG . . . Dominic Owner, from Forest Heath District Council, got into the spirit of Newmarket's first plastic bag ban day on Tuesday by recycling plastic in favour of a reusable fabric bag. Full story on Page 3. Picture: Richard Marsham 476133.

A NEW aircraft stacking zone could threaten Newmarket's racehorse industry.

Trainers fear the increased noise could lead major players, including Sheikh Mohammed, to move their operations away.

Much of the proposed new holding area is over the south of the town, where thousands of acres of stud farms are owned by his Darley horse-breeding operation.

Mark Tompkins, chairman of Newmarket Trainers' Federation, said: "We are the centre of world racing. There has been so much investment in the past 10 or 15 years.

"But I don't think people understand how noisy this could be and once it's established it will only get worse.

"This area will be over much of Sheikh Mohammed's land and Cheveley Park Stud, the largest English-owned stud, and they could easily move elsewhere. It's a big concern for people in the industry."

Jim Paice, MP for South East Cambridgeshire, wants the stacking area to be over the sea or areas which are already noisy, such as busy roads.

In a letter to NATS, the National Air Traffic Service, he said: "It is not only people who will be affected by these proposals but wildlife, and, crucially to Newmarket, horses.

"The concentration of racing businesses and services in the Newmarket area has proved of enormous benefit to the local economy.

"Many studs and livery yards will find themselves beneath the proposed new hold – if stud owners thought their horses might even be moderately disturbed they might consider relocating, possibly even leaving the area altogether.

"That would jeopardise jobs, weaken a lynchpin of the local economy and undermine the reputation of Newmarket as the home of British horseracing."

Members of RuralPeace, a group set up by residents under a proposed stacking zone over western Cambridgeshire, want to join forces with people in the areas near Newmarket which could be affected.

RuralPeace spokeswoman Pam Timbrell said: "Aircraft will join the hold at 7,000ft and subsequent arriving aircraft will join above that at 1,000ft intervals, up to 14,000ft – at busy times up to eight planes could be circling as they wait to land at Stansted for the eastern Cambridge hold, and Luton in the case of the western hold.

"Aircraft may be instructed to descend beneath the level of the hold at any point, so 7,000ft may not be the lowest that planes will cross the local area."

A petition against the scheme has been started on the 10 Downing Street website and more details can be found at www.ruralpeace.org or www.consultation.nats.co.uk

Visitors enjoy colourful display of daffodils

THOUSANDS of daffodils made a colourful display as Chippenham Park Gardens staged its first open day of the year.

The 15-acre garden, which has a history dating from the 18th Century, is open three times a year under the National Gardens Scheme.

Money from the admission charges goes to charities supported by the scheme.

The village benefits from the money raised from the sale of refreshments at the gardens.

The gardens have been developed by the current owner Anne Crawley who inherited them more than 20 years ago.

She is a member of the Tharp family which have owned the Chippenham Park Estate for centuries.

Drug addict 'seeking help' is spared jail

A DRUG addict who grabbed a woman by the throat and threatened to smash a beer glass in her face has been spared a prison sentence.

Danny Maynard, 27, who has a string of convictions for violence and public order offences, was given a 16-week suspended prison sentence by magistrates on the condition he takes part in a drug rehabilitation programme.

Prosecutor Sarah-Jane Atkins said Maynard was in the Tiger Head pub in Mildenhall last July and had consumed a relatively large amount of alcohol.

Maynard, of Clare Close, Mildenhall, was said to have made an inappropriate remark to a woman who was a friend of his girlfriend, which resulted in an argument.

He then stormed into the ladies' toilets after the two women and grabbed the friend by the throat.

BY Jo Deeks
Email: editorial@newmarketweeklynews.co.uk

She pushed him out of the way and went into the bar.

Maynard followed, picked up a beer glass and said: "I am going to smash this into your face."

After being ejected from the pub, Maynard continue shouting and swearing outside, then as a family were driving past in the High Street, he stood in the middle of the road in front of their car, shouting abuse.

He then slammed both his hands on the bonnet of the car and hit the window on the vehicle where a seven-year-old boy was sitting inside.

He pleaded guilty to offences of assault, threatening behaviour, theft of a trailer on an earlier occasion, and two offences of failing to surrender to bail.

Miss Atkins told the Bury Magistrates' Court Maynard had 10 previous convictions, including several for violence and public order offences, between 1994 and 2006.

David Stewart, defending, said his client had spent four days in custody in relation to the bail offences and was remorseful about his behaviour, which he realised was unacceptable.

The court heard he had not committed any more offences since last year and was seeking voluntary help for his drug addiction.

In addition to his suspended prison sentence, Maynard was made the subject of a 12-month supervision order and ordered to pay £150 compensation to the woman he grabbed by the throat and £100 to the family he confronted in their car.

Oil targeted

ANOTHER heating oil theft has occurred in the Mildenhall area.

Thieves have targeted domestic oil tanks in back gardens where hundreds of gallons of fuel has been stolen this winter.

Police have advised householders to take additional security measures.

The latest incident was at Holmsey Green, Beck Row, where "a large quantity" of oil was stolen from a tank between last Tuesday and Wednesday.

Anyone with information should call Police Community Support Officer Terry Joynson at the Lakenheath and the Rows Safer Neighbourhood Team on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Ladders gone

A ROOF rack and the ladders on it were stolen from a van parked in Gordon Richards Close, Newmarket.

The Rhino roof rack and a set of Youngmans ladders were worth more than £800. They were stolen from the white Transit van between 4.30pm last Friday and 7am on Saturday.

Anyone with information should call Pc Lee Sampher at the Newmarket North Safer Neighbourhood Team on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Reunion date

A REUNION for former employees of a Newmarket photo-processing works will be held on May 23.

The reunion, organised by John Dennis, is for people who worked at John Slater Photography, Colorlabs International and Colourcare at Fordham Road between 1950 and 1988.

Anyone interested in taking part should contact Mr Dennis (01638) 578252 before May 3.

Stadium plan

A NEW 10ft close-boarded fence is planned at Mildenhall Stadium in a bid to tackle noise complaints.

The work, which also involves fitting higher entrance gates, is the subject of an application to Forest Heath District Council for planning permission.

The stadium, at West Row, has been the subject of complaints about the noise from banger racing, speedway and other activities.

The council has required the stadium owners to take action to reduce the noise.

Cash hurdle slows down world heritage site bid

FURTHER talks have been held about seeking World Heritage Site status for Newmarket.

The idea was discussed by representatives of councils and other groups but the cost of making a bid – believed to be £250,000 – and other factors, make it unlikely to happen in the near future.

It is nearly two years since the suggestion first surfaced – in consultation about Forest Heath District Council's local development framework.

The idea would centre on more than 300 years of horseracing history and the town's status as racing's "headquarters". It would join the likes of The Great Wall of China as a heritage site.

BY John Goode

Email: editorial@newmarketweeklynews.co.uk

Graham Snelling, curator and acting director of the town's National Horseracing Museum, organised the latest meeting.

"The aim was to put some feelers out about how Newmarket felt about becoming a World Heritage Site," he said. "Having looked into the current criteria, it became obvious that Newmarket ticked all the boxes as a potential World Heritage Site."

He said the only other sporting heritage site in the world was at Olympia in Greece, the site of the original Olympic Games.

"I was keen for people to sit down and discuss it, but clearly it needs someone to take it forward," he said.

Mr Snelling said it would take "time and manpower" to make a bid with UNESCO, the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organisation, for World Heritage status.

Any bid would need government support – and four other sites in Britain have already been chosen for the latest round of applications. The next round is unlikely to be before 2010.

Mr Snelling discussed the idea with local MP Richard Spring when he visited the museum on Friday.

Councillor Bill Burch, mayor of Newmarket, said: "It appeared there was quite a lot of work to be done to make an application.

"The town council can't give any financial assistance.

"It would be nice to have the status but I, personally, couldn't see the benefits it would bring to the people of Newmarket."

Councillor Robin Millar, former mayor and member of the district council, said: "We recognise that Newmarket has a place on the world stage, but there are real initiatives to concentrate on before making a bid for World Heritage Site status."

Welcome boost for village teens

NEW facilities for teenagers are being provided in a village as part of a scheme costing about £15,000.

Work has just started on a teens shelter on the recreation ground at Fordham, together with a play wall including a basketball hoop and a tarmac skate area with grind rail.

The scheme has been under consideration since youngsters approached the parish council about five years ago asking for extra facilities.

At the same time a new path is being created linking the village school with the play area.

Hugh Palmer, chairman of the parish council, said the path would cost a similar amount to the new teens facilities. East Cambridgeshire District Council has awarded grants totalling £20,000 which will be split between the two schemes.

He said it was hoped that the work would be finished by the end of the month.

Plastic bag ban day a big success

NEWMARKET'S first one-day ban on throw-away plastic carrier bags was hailed a success.

The campaign group ReNew gave away around 1,700 reuseable fabric bags to shoppers in in the town on Tuesday.

A supply problem meant that only about a third of the 5,000 fabric bags ordered by the group arrived in time.

But Councillor Chris Turner, the town's deputy mayor, said the rest of the bags should be available by May 1 when another "plastic bag ban" day will be held.

The group's fabric bags were handed out by Forest Heath District Council recycling staff from a stall in the town's Guineas centre and Tesco and Waitrose supermarkets which both supported the day.

Cllr Turner said: "It was a busy day and we got rid of our bags very quickly. The majority of people have been very happy to get a free bag and to sign a pledge to reuse any plastic bags they have and try to decrease the number of plastic bags.

"I'm very happy with what's happened, although it would have been good to have had even more bags to give away. The proof of the pudding will be if we see people using our black fabric bags in the weeks to come."

He said most shops in the town supported the campaign and had taken posters to publicise it.

He intends to visit some of the town's schools to talk about the campaign before the next ban day.

The £5,000 funding for the campaign came from the town council, county councillor Bill Sadler's locality budget, council contractor Viridor waste management and an anonymous resident.

Friends of the Earth and Forest Heath District Council are also backing the campaign. A third ban day is planned on June 1.

Bail for two men arrested over rape

TWO men questioned by police investigating the rape of a 16-year-old girl in Newmarket have been released on bail.

The men, aged 18 and 21, were arrested in the Acton area of West London and brought to Bury St Edmunds police station for questioning.

But they were released on bail to return to Bury St Edmunds police station on June 4.

A police investigation was launched after the girl told officers on duty outside the town's De Niro's night club just before 2.30am on Monday, March 24, that she had been raped by two men in a passageway beside the Kings Theatre in nearby Fitzroy Street. Detectives from Suffolk travelled to London last Wednesday to arrest the two men.

Driver charged over fatal crash

A MOTORIST has been charged with causing a motorcyclist's death by dangerous driving.

Philip Millbank, 33, of Fordham Road, Newmarket, was charged by police yesterday and is due to appear before magistrates at Bury St Edmunds on Tuesday, April 15.

Popular local footballer Stephen Hockley, 54, died when his motorcycle was in collision with a Renault Espace in Fordham Road on Monday, December 3.

Mr Hockley, of Station Road, Dullingham, was on his way home from the David S Smith packaging factory at Fordham where he worked as a graphic designer.

He had played football for Newmarket Town and Soham Town Rangers and still played occasionally for Newmarket Town veterans.

He enjoyed drawing caricatures and one of his subjects was top jockey Frankie Dettori.

He is survived by his wife, Sandra, daughter Luan and two grandchildren – one born shortly after he died.

Radio show ticket offer

GARDENING experts will answer residents' queries when BBC Radio 4's Gardeners' Question Time visits Mildenhall.

The panel – Bob Flowerdew, Bunny Guinness and Matthew Biggs – will be at the town's Social Club on April 15.

Their hosts are Barton Mills and District Gardening Club who have invited anyone interested to apply for free tickets which are available, on a first-come, first served basis, by sending a stamped, addressed envelope to G Berrett, Little Paddocks, Kenny Hill, Bury St Edmunds IP28 8DS.

The audience will have to arrive between 5.15pm and 5.45pm.

The programme recording is expected to finish at about 8.30pm.

Jockey Club search for chief executive

THE Jockey Club is aiming to develop its commercial role in British horseracing by appointing a chief executive.

The search is on for someone suitable to fill the role and make the most effective use of the club's assets and interests.

The club owns 14 racecourses, including the two at Newmarket, as well as 5,000 acres of land around Newmarket and Lambourn in Berkshire and is about to take over the National Stud at Newmarket.

The review of the structure and governance of The Jockey Club and its racecourse group has included a review of business at all of its racecourses with the aim of reducing overheads and modernising operations.

Until the appointment of a chief executive, Andrew Gould will continue as acting chief executive of Jockey Club Racecourses focusing on strategic and commercial issues.

Paul Fisher, who was seconded from his role as managing director at Kempton Park to lead the racecourse review, has been appointed chief operating officer of Jockey Club Racecourses.

Accountant figures highly in People's Race favourites

AN ACCOUNTANT is one of the favourites to win the John Smith's People's Race at the Grand National meeting on Saturday.

Clare Twemlow, 29, has been made second favourite since it was announced that she will ride Zabeel Palace, owned by Newmarket former trainer Barney Curley.

She is one of 10 members of the public who won a chance to take part in a flat race at Aintree on the day of the Grand National.

The horse, trained by Andrew Stringer, has previously won two races. Clare, who lives in Cheveley and was previously finance director at Newmarket's British Racing School, has been training with Neil King for the nine-furlong race which could raise £500,000 for a number of charities.

She has chosen Direct Aid for Africa, a charity started by Barney Curley, to benefit from the £5,000 each of the riders will achieve.

But she is hoping to net the £50,000 top prize for the charity.

"That amount of money would make a huge difference," she said.

"There's quite a lot of pressure being second favourite, but I'm trying not to think about it. I just want to do myself and the horse justice."

She was given some tips from champion jockey Jamie Spencer who met her at Barney Curley's stables at Hamilton Road, Newmarket.

He is also a supporter of the charity and has visited some of its projects in Zambia.

Residents' views sought on local environment

FLY-tipping, abandoned vehicles, litter and dog fouling can be discussed with council officers at a drop-in session in Newmarket.

Forest Heath District Council wants to hear from residents how areas of the town can be improved.

There have been complaints about litter and graffiti in the town centre.

The session, the first of a series to be held across the district, will be staged at Studlands Park Community Centre tomorrow between 4pm and 6pm.

Cllr Tony Simmons, member champion for environment, said: "Everyone is affected by their local environment.

"We want to raise awareness and find out what residents feel is important to them so that the council can focus its efforts in those areas.

"I would encourage residents to call in and let us know what they think."

Bus is damaged in attack by vandals

VANDALS damaged a bus parked overnight at Mildenhall bus station and set alight to a recycling bin nearby.

The incidents happened in King Street last Friday. A mirror was broken off the bus and a window was broken.

The damage to the bin was caused between 3am and 3.20am on Saturday and the damage to the bus was caused between 11.35pm on Friday and 7am on Saturday.

Anyone with information about the incidents should call Pc Wayne Borley at Mildenhall police (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers 0800 555111.

■ RETURN VISIT . . . Madness, with frontman Suggs, will be wowing the crowds in Newmarket in August.

Touch of Madness at racing concert

BY John Goode

■ GOING TO THE RACES . . . The Feeling have also signed up for Newmarket Nights.

THE line-up for the 2008 season of Newmarket Nights is now complete.

The "nutty" sound of 1980s hit band Madness and chart-topping band The Feeling have both been signed to play at the popular after-race summer concerts .

Madness, one of the most successful bands of their era, performed to the only sell-out crowd at the July racecourse last summer, filling even the increased capacity of around 21,000.

Now they have been confirmed for Friday, August 8 – the last remaining night of the seven "Newmarket Nights" when top bands play after evening race meetings.

Just before Madness confirmed their slot, The Feeling were signed to play on Friday, August 1.

Racecourse chiefs hailed this year's line-up, which includes Boyzone, Girls Aloud and James Morrison as the "best ever".

Stephen Wallis, managing director of Newmarket Racecourses, said: "We are extremely thrilled to be welcoming back Madness to Newmarket.

"Their performance in 2007 marked one of the best Newmarket Nights ever and Madness were hugely popular with the crowd.

"It was no surprise to us that Madness sold out very quickly last year and urge our customers to book early for this year's event to avoid disappointment."

Formed in London more than 30 years ago, Madness gave their own slant to reggae and ska music and spent a record-breaking 214 weeks in the charts between 1979 and 1988 with songs including Our House, Driving in my Car, Baggy Trousers and One Step Beyond. They re-formed in 1992 and a new album is rumoured.

The Feeling were the most played band on radio stations in 2006.

Their four singles Sewn, Fill My Little World, Never Be Lonely and Love It When You Call received a total of 97,436 plays, which meant that, on average, a song by The Feeling was played 267 times every day, or once every five minutes.

In 2007 they were nominated for a Brit Award, received the Ivor Novello Award for Songwriters of the Year and were selected by Princes William and Harry to perform at the tribute concert for Diana, Princess of Wales.

The Feeling recently played at the Cambridge Corn Exchange and their second album Join With Us was released in February and entered the UK Charts at the Number 1 slot.

For more information on the concerts see www.newmarketracecourses.co.uk or call (01638) 675500.

What drives voters into state of apathy

Sir, Dave Hitchman is quite right, (Voters get what they deserve, Newmarket Weekly News letters, March 27). However it is unfortunate that so few of these voters, eligible as they are, do not vote.

Statistics show that our local councillors reach office as a result of a dismal turnout. We now learn of the excessive pay awards that they give themselves which again adds to our frustration as we now find ourselves unable to influence any issues.

Consider this money, our money, paid in Council Tax adding to the coffers of the authorities. We see, for instance, that many executives are on very high salaries, of which 40 per cent will go in income tax back to the government.

This then is a further tax on us. It is our money that we have paid in taxes to the authority in the first place, thinking it will be for our general good which is now channelled directly back to the government. The higher the salaries, the higher the return. It is easy to see that although council officers have a high remuneration what we cannot see is their expense claims: also our money, this will be tax free.

This is the same situation the central government is having with its disclosures. It seems quite likely that the expenses paid to local government officials will also be exceptional.

We are supposed to be a democracy however our elected MPs cannot represent the people. They have to toe the party line. Our local councillors also do not represent the people. It is a great pity that those persons who stand as independent both in local and central government cannot break the mould.

If it were a true democracy we would be able to vote on such local matters as the refurbishment of the Forest Heath Council offices and other issues of downright waste.

At national level we would have a referendum on the other great expenditure, the EU, which the French president spoke of during his recent visit – the true translation of his speech has never been made public. These and many other issues that we cannot influence are driving us into frustration which then lapses into apathy, a state many of the people seem to be in now!

Being proud of children and grandchildren

Sir, With reference to your article School satisfactory with 'capacity to improve', Newmarket Weekly News, March 27.

I am a local mother of five children and myself one of six children, all raised in Mildenhall.

We have all been in local education in Mildenhall and always been in full-time work. I, like many others, did not like the article on page 11, saying that most of the school's 338 pupils come from socially disadvantaged areas of Mildenhall and Lakenheath.

We don't live on a private housing estate or drive new cars, but we do all muck in and help each other out when needed, and without the help of the local "disadvantaged" people, a lot of people would be on the dole.

Each child is special to their parents, and I am very proud of all my children and grandchildren.

Man, 57, hit prison officer with table leg

A FORMER taxi driver has been jailed indefinitely for attacking a prison officer while serving a sentence for mowing down two men with his cab.

Kingsley Morrisey, 57, was in Highpoint Prison, near Haverhill, serving a six-year sentence when he hit a prison officer over the head with a table leg.

The officer, Anthony Eddy, forced his way into a cell in the prison's segregation unit after Morrisey had started smashing up furniture and tried to barricade himself inside, Ipswich Crown Court heard.

Mr Eddy, who was carrying a shield, slipped and fell over and Morrisey hit him across the head with the table leg, prosecutor David Wilson told the court.

The officer suffered a serious cut to the top of his head and was taken to West Suffolk Hospital, Bury St Edmunds, for treatment and was on sick leave for four weeks.

Morrisey, who formerly lived at Dalham Road, Ousden, admitted wounding with intent to cause grievous bodily harm and was ordered to be detained indefinitely.

Morrisey will have to serve at least two and a half years before he can be considered for release by the Parole Board.

He had originally been jailed after a 2005 incident in which he ran down two men after a row over them eating food in his cab.

Defence lawyer Gregory Perrins said Morrisey had no memory of the taxi incident or the attack on the prison officer. Psychiatric tests had revealed nothing to explain his actions.

Planners reject flats bid at threatened P.O.

BY John Goode

Email: editorial@newmarketweeklynews.co.uk

COUNCILLORS have refused planning permission to turn a post office threatened with closure into flats.

Members of Forest Heath District Council's planning committee voted, against the advice of their experts, to reject plans to convert Newmarket's Exning Road post office into flats.

Councillors turned down the application for planning permission, submitted by the owners of the post office, on the grounds of over-development and the lack of parking spaces proposed for the residents of the five flats which would be created on the site.

The post office is among eight West Suffolk branches earmarked for closure, although the application for planning permission was submitted several weeks before the formal announcement.

Council planning officers argued that the scheme was acceptable as there were other convenience stores in the area and alternative post offices in Newmarket High Street and the village of Exning.

They warned that the committee's decision could be overturned if there was an appeal by the owners.

■ POSTAL PLAN . . . above, Exning Road post office, which is still very busy, says Cllr Bill Burch, right.

The Exning Road post office is the last remaining sub-post office in Newmarket. If the closure goes ahead the only post office remaining will be the main branch in the High Street.

The news comes as post offices are under threat throughout the region with an announcement on which branches will be shut in Cambridgeshire due in July.

Councillor Bill Burch, Newmarket's mayor, said: "I think it's essential that the post office is left there.

"It's a very busy post office and poor old people who live in that area can't get down to the High Street.

"It's absolutely ridiculous."

In Barton Mills, near Mildenhall, parish councillors are expected to oppose plans to close the village post office.

Frances Lewis, a member of the parish council, said that all members of the council had already signed a petition against the closure plans.

She said: "It will be a great loss – not only to Barton Mills, and surrounding villages, but also to Mildenhall, because you can park right outside our post office and take heavy parcels in."

Mildenhall's post office is in the town's Co-op store in the pedestrianised Market Precinct.

She said the parish council would consider a formal response to the closure announcement at its next meeting.

Call for businesses to dish up food festival fun

PLANS are already on the table for a third annual food festival in the Forest Heath district.

The festival, to be held between September 20 and 27, will coincide with the first week of British Food Fortnight.

The district council is encouraging local businesses – including those without a direct connection with the food industry – to take part.

Last year supermarket chain Waitrose sponsored a Big Cook-Off contest between two local schools with local chefs.

Forest Heath District Council, organiser of the week-long event, is looking for businesses within the district to participate and suggest ideas for making this year's event bigger and better.

For more information, to discuss an idea or to confirm participation please contact Emma Cooney, Economic Development Officer on 01638 719471 emma.cooney@forest-heath.gov.uk or Simon Batey, tourism services manager on (01638) 667200 or simon.batey@forest-heath.gov.uk or visit www.forest-heath.gov.uk/business/business+information

Valuables raided

CUFFLINKS, jewellery, silverware and clocks were stolen from a house in High Street, Ashley, near Newmarket.

Now Cambridgeshire police have issued photographs of some of the items stolen and have appealed for anyone who may have been offered the items for sale to contact them.

The raid happened between February 10 and 16,

Anyone with information should call Cambridgeshire police on 0845 4564564.

Beauty firm's worldwide appeal

A MILDENHALL company has been highly commended in the Government's Passport to Export Awards.

Essential care, based at James Carter Road, Mildenhall, manufactures and distributes more than 60 organic skincare, haircare and aromatherapy products.

Since the company became involved with the Passport to Export (P2E) scheme, run by the Government organisation for overseas enterprise – UK Trade and Investment – the company has gone from having no export business to an export turnover of £40,000.

The award was presented by Lord Digby Jones, Minister for Trade and Investment, in a ceremony at Ickworth House, near Bury St Edmunds.

Thieves take tipper truck

A TIPPER lorry has been stolen from a parking area near a garage block in Craven Way, Newmarket.

The white LDV lorry, registration Y772 WVA, has the company name Anglia Block Paving painted on it.

It was stolen between 10pm on Tuesday, March 25, and 5.40am the next day.

Anyone with information should contact Sgt Matt Little at Newmarket police on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Fen plan for wetland park 'ridiculous waste of money'

PLANS for a wetland park are facing growing opposition, with critics labelling the ambitious scheme a "ridiculous waste of money".

The National Trust is asking people to have their say on Wicken Fen Vision, a scheme to re-flood 22 square miles of former wetlands between Soham and Cambridge.

But residents in nearby villages of Swaffham Prior, Wicken, Fen Ditton, Waterbeach, Lode and Burwell have condemned the scheme at a series of consultation meetings.

They say turning thousands of acres of prime farmland into a "jungle" would be a scandalous misuse of millions of pounds of public and lottery money.

Geoffrey Woollard, a parish councillor in Swaffham Prior, said: "This scheme would cost hundreds of millions of pounds, once all the land has been bought, and it is a ridiculous waste of money.

"I do not want to deprive people of access to the Fens, but I feel this scheme is totally out of proportion to the needs of local people. It is far too big and expensive. It is also a criminal waste of a diminishing resource – our land.

"I have attended five out of the six meetings on Wicken Vision and most of the 'consultees' have been deeply critical of this crazy scheme."

The National Trust's 100-year plan would see it buy land and flood it to create new areas of biodiversity, such as floodplain grazing marsh, wet woodland, fen and reed bed.

It is hoped these will attract otters, water voles, bitterns, reed buntings, song thrushes, pipistrelle bats and great crested newts.

But George Dean, of Longmeadow, Lode, said: "The proposal is not conservation work, rather the creation of an 'ideal countryside'.

"The vision seems to be of a Utopian imagined space, in which the public and managed landscape combine to give the effect of a natural space, whereas in reality it is entirely artificial.

"It is actually a 22-square mile theme park, built for the recreation of the new 47,500 homes to be built in the area soon.

"I am all for conservation, but against this vision of creation."

But National Trust spokesman Howard Cooper insisted there was support for the scheme.

He said: "Some people have supported it and some have not.

"It is a long-term vision and there is no financial cost on it yet. It also depends on people's willingness to sell their land for the project, which will help preserve the habitat of the Fens."

Ombudsman raps council for 'bias' over planning decision

A COUNCIL has been rapped by the Local Government Ombudsman for giving a councillor's son permission to build houses on a wildlife site.

The Ombudsman, Tony Redmond, said the decision by Forest Heath District Council's planning committee gave "an appearance of bias and favouritism" towards James Waters even though his father, Cllr Terry Waters, did not take part in the debate.

Mr Redmond has recommended that the council pays £1,000 compensation to each of the two women residents who complained to him.

The issue is now the subject of a further investigation by the Standards Board for England which is looking into the conduct of councillors who supported the application for planning permission to build eight houses on the land at Beck Row.

BY John Goode
Email: editorial@newmarketweeklynews.co.uk

The majority decision by the planning committee was taken in November 2006 and the Ombudsman has just published his report which does not identify the councillors or the complainants.

Mr Redmond said the committee had gone against the advice of the council's paid planning officers.

He said: "The appearance given to complainants was that, had the applicant not been the son of a councillor, the application would have been refused under delegated powers."

He criticised the intervention of a Cllr John McGhee who asked for the issue to be considered by the planning committee.

The Ombudsman said his actions gave the impression he was acting to represent the views of Cllr Waters.

He also said the committee failed in its duty to have proper regard to material planning considerations including concern about an 800-year-old oak tree on the site.

The development has already started and the planning permission granted required that the tree should be safeguarded.

The Ombudsman found the council guilty of maladministration causing injustice and recommends that it should apologise and pay cash compensation to the residents.

In addition he recommends extra training for planning committee members.

A statement issued by the council said: "While Forest Heath District Council, as a corporate body, has been found guilty of maladministration, critical reports about the council from the Ombudsman are very rare.

"The council offers a full apology to the residents affected by the planning decision.

"The council will be considering the Ombudsman's report at a meeting this month."

Cllr Geoffrey Jaggard, the council leader, said: "I continue to have faith in the advice of our professional planning staff and in the robust procedures we follow with planning applications.

"Members already receive training and I will now be ensuring that this is refreshed and that members are constantly aware of the need for a high level of care and probity in planning decisions."

Camp site to get log cabins

PERMISSION has been granted for 35 log cabins to be built at a camping and caravan site.

The cabins are set to be built at the Baron Cove site at Weirs Drove, Burwell, to replace some of the existing touring caravan pitches.

East Cambridgeshire District Council has approved the scheme.

The parish council opposed the scheme on the grounds that it would make it more difficult to enforce restrictions on residential use of the site.

But the district council's planning committee heard that no breaches of the restrictions had been reported in the past five years.

The council ruled that the cabins should only be used between April and October and should not be used as a person's main residence.

Get-together for families

FAMILIES of British and American forces in Afghanistan and Iraq got together at a free event staged at the Mildenhall base.

The "Hearts Apart" spring festival was staged by the US Air Force units at Mildenhall and RAF units at Honington and Marham in Norfolk.

It was the third event of its kind and included a barbecue, Easter egg hunt, games and bouncy castles.

Vicky Stayton, community relations adviser at the Mildenhall base, said: "These events help British and American military family members come together to talk about these experiences and build new friendships."

Pool site theft of generator

A HEAVY welding generator has been stolen from the site where Newmarket's new swimming pool is being built.

Thieves got into the site, next to Newmarket College and the town's leisure centre in Exning Road, through a fence before stealing the generator which had been left secure.

The contractors told police that the generator weighed nearly half a tonne and would have needed more than four men, or a forklift truck, to move because of its weight. Graffiti was also painted on a wall.

Anyone with information about the incident, which happened between 3.30pm on Friday, March 14, and 9am on Monday, March 17, should contact Pc Gary Miller at Newmarket police on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

New battle looms over late licences

A NEW battle over late-night drinks licences is looming with a revamped pub's application to stay open until 2am.

The bid by Mortimer's, formerly the Orange House, in High Street, Newmarket, is being opposed by the town council.

So far this year the town council has opposed an application by the Total filling station, in the High Street, to sell alcoholic drinks for consumption off the premises for 24 hours a day on most days in a week.

The council also opposed a bid by the Wimpy burger restaurant to stay open until 1am, although the restaurant does not sell alcoholic drinks.

Both applications were ultimately approved by Forest Heath District Council's licensing sub-committee despite opposition by the town council and the police.

Mortimer's has now applied to the district council to extend opening hours to 2am on Fridays and Saturdays. Its current licence allows alcoholic drinks to be sold until 40 minutes after midnight.

Forest Heath District Council has declared Newmarket High Street and the surrounding areas as a "cumulative impact policy" area which should make it more difficult for late licences to be granted and bring in stricter controls.

But town councillors have been disappointed that their views have apparently been ignored.

Cllr Jane Bailey told a meeting of the town council: "We have got the cumulative impact policy and we should stick with that.

"We should object strongly [to the latest application]."

Cllr Warwick Hirst, former mayor, said: "Whatever our frustration with the licensing sub-committee, we should stick to our guns."

But Cllr Jonathan Richer said there had been no increase in violence outside the pub since the extension of licensing hours.

The council voted by a majority to oppose the licence application.

Council's bid to dial up pressure on phone firm

■ EYESORE . . . Cllr Mick Jefferys, inset, wants the O_2 phone mast, main picture, removed. Picture: Keith Jones 465262.

A CAMPAIGN to embarrass a mobile phone company into moving a controversial mast will be supported by town councillors.

Members of Newmarket Town Council are trying to get the mast, which appeared in Exning Road outside Newmarket College and the town's new swimming pool nearly two months ago, taken down.

Forest Heath District Council planning chiefs have admitted they made a blunder which allowed the phone company O_2 to go ahead and put the mast up.

Richard Watson, the district council's head of planning, has said the situation is "irrecoverable". But town councillors are pressing for "all possible avenues" to be explored to get the mast removed.

Councillor Mick Jefferys, former mayor and a teacher at the college, said: "It's very easy for Forest Heath to say that the situation is irrecoverable, but I don't accept that."

He said the "precautionary principle" on health risks associated with microwave transmissions from phone masts should apply – particularly near a school site.

"Having a drainpipe sticking up in front of the new swimming pool hardly makes the street scene very attractive," he said. "It's an eyesore, it's horrible and it shouldn't be there."

As part of the campaign, Isabelle Barrett, the town clerk, has been asked to establish whether the company has put up the mast on land owned by Suffolk County Council.

Theatre group's farce is winning format

CHARITIES, schools, churches and clubs have benefited from money raised by an amateur dramatic theatre production.

Two performances of the farce Don't Dress for Dinner by Mildenhall's Riverside Theatre Company raised £3,800.

A total of 18 organisations shared the cash after selling tickets for the show.

They were: Action Medical Research, Beck Row Pre-School, East Anglian Air Ambulance, Lions Club, Mildenhall in Bloom, Mildenhall & District Museum, Mildenhall RC Church, Mildenhall College of Technology, Newmarket Volley Ball Club, Orbis Fund at ETC, Poppy Appeal, Riverside School, Samaritans, St Mary's Church in Barton Mills, St Mary's Primary School, St Nicholas Hospice, Tuddenham Methodist Church and West Row Primary School.

Julie Merrick, chairman of the Riverside Theatre Company said: "It's a win-win situation.

"The comedy is fantastic, the audiences loved it and thousands of pounds have been raised for charity effortlessly. We will definitely repeat this format."

Roof repair bill doubles

REPAIRS to a shopping centre where thieves stripped lead from roofs are expected to cost more than £10,000.

The thieves damaged the roofs on flats above Newmarket's Guineas shopping centre two weeks ago. They were disturbed by one of the tenants who heard a noise on the roof. But they returned two nights later.

Although they did not manage to take any of the lead away, it was left in piles ready for removal. About 80 metres of lead were removed.

Repairs were initially estimated at £5,000. But now the bill is expected to be more than double.

Ross McKittrick, centre manager, said: "We have been told that due to health and safety we have got to have scaffolding up over part of the Market Square which has pushed the cost up.

"To stop this from happening again we are going to replace the lead with an alternative material."

He said he did not know when the work would be done as it had to be organised through the centre's insurers.

Mr McKittrick said the damage to the roof had not caused any damage due to water leaks inside the flats.

Gig at home

FIRST Copy, runners-up in last year's Newmarket Battle of the Bands, will be performing at a rock night on their doorstep at the town's Studlands Park Sports and Social Club.

They will be taking part in the rock night at the club in Hyperion Way on Saturday, April 5, starting at 8pm. Admission to the night is £3.

Further similar events are planned at the club in the future.

Cheveley

DUE to a lack of North Ward councillors the meeting of Cheveley Parish Council was unable to commence on Tuesday, March 11, at 7.30pm. However, emergency action taken by the clerk and council ensured a brief meeting was able to take place dealing with financial and priority matters. This was held after the Cheveley Pavilion and Recreation Ground Trust meeting.

The council agreed a small donation to the Cheveley British Legion, that the clerk should attend the CALC Archiving Documents and Freedom of Information workshop, and the re-allocation of unspent expenditure budgeted for 2007-2008. The clerk reported the appointment of Moore Stephens as the external auditor to the parish council and the council agreed to re-appoint East Cambridgeshire District Council as the internal auditor for the 2007/08 accounts.

The parish council resolved that the burial fees remain the same for a further year and approved a donation to fund the Cheveley Pavilion and Recreation Ground Charity in the next financial year.

The council discussed the current consultation on the NATS Terminal Control North Airspace change proposal and agreed that a working party should find further facts to be brought to the April meeting for a response to be formulated. It was agreed that details will be put on the parish council website with a link to the NATS website.

The parish council considered appropriate items for inclusion on the April South Neighbourhood Panels Agenda and agreed to request that the NATS Terminal North Control consultation and Rural Speeding – methods to increase public awareness be suggested as items for the April SNP meeting.

The next meeting of the parish council is to take place on Tuesday, April 8, commencing at 7.30pm in the community room, Cheveley Primary School and members of the public are welcome.

Agendas for the meeting will be displayed on all notice boards in the parish at least three days before the meeting in order that parishioners may be informed about the content of the meeting. A meeting of the Cheveley Pavilion and Recreation Ground Charity will follow this.

Please note that minutes of all meetings can be viewed at www.Cheveley-pc.org.uk or by contacting the clerk to the parish council.

Some amazing facts about

AMATEURS: Unlike the Derby, the Grand National often sees amateur riders taking on and beating the professionals. The big race was most recently won by a member of the unpaid ranks when journalist Marcus Armytage scored on Mr Frisk in 1990.

BECHER'S BROOK: The 1839 National gave us the legendary Becher's Brook, jumped as the sixth and 22nd fence in the great race. Captain Martin Becher fell from his horse Conrad at the ditch and crawled into the brook to escape the rest of the field jumping on him.

He is reported to have said he never knew water tasted so foul without whisky in it. There have been many fallers at this notorious fence since then and in 1990 Becher's Brook was straightened and the ditch partially filled in to make it safer.

DOUGLAS: Former British Lions rugby union international John Douglas won the Grand National as an owner in 1979. His 10-year-old Rubstic scored at 25-1 to give Scotland its one and only success in the race.

FAVOURITES: Rough Quest was the first winning favourite in 14 years when he scored at 7-1 in 1996 and market leader Earth Summit struck just two years later at the same odds. Golden Miller started the shortest-priced favourite ever in 1935 at 2-1 but failed to complete the course.

GREYS: Only two grey horses have ever won the Grand National in its 150-year history, The Lamb (1868 and 1871) and Nicolaus Silver (1961).

JOCKEYS: Carl Llewellyn is the only jockey still riding to have won the Grand National twice, on Party Politics (1992) and Earth Summit (1998).

LADY RIDERS: Charlotte Brew became the first woman to ride in the Grand National in 1977. Her mount Barony Fort refused at the fourth-last fence. Geraldine Rees was the first to complete the course, on Cheers in 1982. Rosemary Henderson, a 51-year-old grandmother, finished fifth on Fiddlers Pike in 1994. Carrie Ford will be trying to win this time aboard Forest Gunner.

MOVIES: Aldaniti's emotional 1981 success inspired the movie 'Champions'. John Hurt portrayed Bob Champion, who fought back from cancer to land the National on a horse who overcame career-threatening injury himself.

NICKEL: Nickel Coin was the last mare to win the Grand National, in 1951. Closest to scoring for the fairer sex in recent years have been Dubacilla and Ebony Jane, fourth in 1995 and 1994 respectively, and Auntie Dot, third in 1991.

OUTSIDERS: Four horses have won the race at odds of 100-1, Tipperary Tim (1928), Gregalach (1929), Caughoo (1947) and Foinavon (1967).

RED RUM: No horse can match Red Rum's Grand National record. Winner of the race in 1973 and 1974, he was second the next two years before his historic third victory in 1977. After his retirement on the eve of the National in 1978, he regularly led the parade of runners before the start. He died in 1995 and is buried by the winning post at Aintree.

VOLUPTUARY: Voluptuary, bred by Queen Victoria, had never jumped a fence before winning the National in 1884. He ended his career clearing a water jump night after night in the Grand National scene of the play 'Prodigal Daughter'.

WEDDINGS: Aintree racecourse is now licensed for wedding ceremonies. Couples can tie the knot in the Valentine suite of the Queen Mother stand before moving on to the Becher suite for a wedding breakfast, with the whole site available for memorable photographs.

YOUNGEST: Bruce Hobbs was the youngest jockey to win the National, scoring on Battleship in 1938 at the age of 17. Oldest successful rider was 48-year-old Dick Saunders on Grittar in 1982. Tim Durant was the oldest jockey to complete the course, partnering Highlandie in 1968 at the age of 68.

ZONGALERO: When Zongalero finished a length-and-a-half second to Rubstic in the 1979 National he completed an unhappy hat-trick. He had also been runner-up in the Mackeson Gold Cup and Massey-Ferguson Gold Cup and ended the season without a win to his name.

TURKO: Useful young chaser who has a question of stamina to overcome but a decent showing is not inconceivable. 5. (33/1)

Agent takes Oman's royal court to court

BY John Goode
Email: editorial@newmarketweeklynews.co.uk

A RACEHORSE agent is suing a Middle-Eastern state for more than £875,000 for false imprisonment, racist abuse and unpaid wages and expenses.

Rick Dale has made the claim against the Sultanate of Oman where he was appointed as a racing adviser to the ruler Sultan Qaboos last year.

But he left the country after complaining about cruelty to horses in the Royal Cavalry yards where imported racehorses are kept.

Mr Dale, 47, of Chestnut Close, Mildenhall, lodged a claim at Cambridge County Court against the Royal Court of Affairs in the Sultanate.

Now a judge sitting at the county court has transferred the case to the High Court in London.

Court papers show that he is claiming £500,000 for racial abuse and false imprisonment plus more than £339,000 for lost earnings, expenses and property he had to leave behind in Oman.

In addition he is claiming £25,000 for a watch he was given as a "leaving present" which he said turned out to be an imitation Rolex.

■ 'HUMILIATING EXPERIENCE' . . . Rick Dale.

His total claim is for £876,360.01.

In his statement of claim to the court he said he was not allowed to leave the country when he wanted to and was threatened with prosecution for bringing sex toys into Oman.

He said he fell out of favour due to his complaints about the treatment of horses in the royal stables.

"I have never seen anything like it in my 40-plus years around horses," he said.

"The final insult came with a presentation of a plaque and fake Rolex watch.

"I was then taken from there and frog-marched to the airport where my visa was cancelled."

He said he was taken through a side gate at the airport to be returned to the UK which he described as "a totally humiliating experience".

Mr Dale told the Weekly News: "It's not about the money. I'm not going to let this drop."

No-one could be contacted to comment on behalf of the Oman Government.

Mr Dale has taken up the issue with local MP Richard Spring who has received a response from Kim Howells, Minister of State at the Foreign and Commonwealth Office.

Mr Howells said that information from Oman indicated that horses which were the subject of Mr Dale's complaint about ill-treatment did not belong to the Oman Royal Cavalry.

He said that the horses had been rescued from elsewhere in the aftermath of Cyclone Gonu which hit Oman in June, 2007.

But Mr Dale said that that information was incorrect.

Pair sought after cars vandalised

TWO cars were damaged by vandals while parked in the same street.

Both cars were parked in Croft Road, Newmarket.

A red Nissan Micra was scratched and had a mirror broken off between 11.30pm and 11.40pm on Sunday, March 23.

A blue Toyota Celica was left scratched and dented between 3pm on Saturday, March 22, and 6pm on Monday, March 24.

Two suspicious men were seen in the area at the time.

One was white, 6ft tall, slim and believed to be in his teens. He was wearing a cap and light grey clothing.

The second is described as white, 5ft tall, and was wearing a cap and dark clothing.

Anyone with information should call Sgt Kevin Jay at Newmarket police on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Recital date

CLARINETTIST Jocelyn Howell will give a recital at St Peter and St Mary Magdalene Church in Fordham on Saturday.
Jocelyn, a former scholar at Ely's King's School where she now teaches, recently completed a Masters Degree at Canterbury Christ Church University.
She will play music by Saint-Saens, Finzi, Hurlestone and Horovitz accompanied by John Flinders on the piano.
He has appeared on BBC television and has been heard on Radio 3 and Classic FM.
The concert starts at 7.30pm and tickets are £7 for adults. Part of the proceeds will go to church funds.

Dance dish

CHOREOGRAPHER Shobana Jeyasingh brings her new show City:Zen to The Junction in Cambridge on Thursday, April 10.
The piece explores the food and flavours of our modern multicultural cities and features music by composer Orlando Gough.
The Shobana Jeyasingh Dance Company is an international troupe which has performed across the world.
The show starts at 8pm and tickets are £7-£10. To book call (01223) 511511.

Stadium stars

TWO of the UK's finest classic rock bands have announced gigs at Cambridge's Corn Exchange later this year.
Status Quo will return for more denim clad rock and roll on October 19 and stadium riff maestros Thunder follow on November 29.
For tickets call (01223) 357851.

Folk festival releases full line-up of stars

ORGANISERS of the Cambridge Folk Festival have announced the full line-up including Joan Armatrading, Judy Collins and The Levellers. Three frontrunners were revealed last month – KD Lang, Billy Bragg and Eliza Carthy – and the rest of the line-up is now published on the festival website's www.cambridgefolkfestival.co.uk

Among the highlights are multi-cultural collective The Imagined Village, US country-blues star and acclaimed songwriter John Hiatt, and rare UK festival appearances by US legendary social activist Judy Collins and Allen Toussaint, one of the most influential figures in New Orleans. Traditional Irish folk band Altan and the uplifting Celtic dance band Peatbog Faeries from the Isle of Skye are all on the eclectic bill which also features Malian desert blues from Bassekou Kouyate and Ngoni Ba, experimental folktronica band Tunng, BBC Radio 2 Young Folk Award winners Jeana Leslie and Siobhan Miller as well as Cambridge's own acoustic rock and roll band, The Shivers.

The four-day festival starts on July 31 and is held in the grounds of Cherry Hinton Hall. Tickets go on sale on May 11 at 9am and from this year, only Cambridge residents will be allowed to book in person.

To prove eligibility, a Council Tax or utility bill will need to be shown.

Scottish first lady's presidential appeal

By Nik Shelton

SCOTTISH singer-songwriter KT Tunstall plays Cambridge's Corn Exchange on Sunday.
She launched her solo career with her first album Eye to the Telescope released in 2004.
Packed full of radio friendly hits like Suddenly I See and Other Side of the World and garnering a Mercury Music Prize nomination, the album turned her into a household name.
In America her career was given an unexpected boost when American Idol contestant Katherine McPhee covered her track Black Horse and the Cherry Tree on the show. The single immediately jumped up the billboard charts as a result, but it wasn't enough to change her opinion of reality TV.
"I don't have a television, partly because I can't stomach reality TV. I find it really disturbing and mind-numbingly dull.
She adds: "It clogs up an already suffocated market for people who are already writing their own stuff and it's breeding a fashion among younger people to just get famous any way they can."

■ US CHEERLEADER . . . KT Tunstall plays Cambridge's Corn Exchange. CP.

Her music's connection with the American public didn't end there though and most recently she has been heard as the backdrop to Hilary Clinton's campaign for the Democrat presidential candidacy.
"Yeah, she's using Suddenly I See as her campaign song. There wasn't a formal request but I could easily have called up and expressed displeasure, however I didn't because I'm all right with it.
"It's a little bit scary having my songs in the American political arena, especially when I'm not American but I'm desperate to see America with a Democratic Government. I know that Barack Obama has actually used the song a couple of times as well."
When she made her first album as an unknown artist she was signed to a small subsidiary label and was given free rein without record industry bosses looming over her.
Not so the second time around with Drastic Fantastic which was released in September last year.
She said: "The first album was a very deliberate attempt at making something very traditional and singer songwriter-based.
"But with this second album I really wanted to explore some of my interests in people like Bowie and The Flaming Lips, much more theatrical character-filled musicians that I love."

Aries Mar21 - Apr20

It's difficult to project the image you'd like. It feels like circumstances are conspiring against you. Attempts to look calm, cool, and sophisticated could spectacularly backfire. If they do you've got to laugh at yourself.

PROPERTY

Tasteful property

This well presented and tastefully decorated end of terrace property is pleasantly situated in the popular Suffolk village of Exning and is offered with no upward chain.

The property offers considerably improved accommodation to include sitting room with period style fireplace, separate dining room, kitchen with shaker style base and eye level units, ground floor bathroom which is fully tiled, and two bedrooms. The property also benefits from gas fired central heating and double glazing.

Outside the property benefits from a walled front garden and delightful enclosed rear garden which is laid to lawn with patio, pergola, shrubs, garden shed and outside tap.

The village of Exning offers a good range of local amenities including shops, primary school, post office, public houses, church and a bus service. Excellent access to the A14 providing links to nearby Bury St Edmunds, Cambridge and to London via the M11.

Viewing is highly recommended by the agent Anne Cable Independent Estate Agents to appreciate the accommodation on offer.

MOTORING

BMW takes international 'green' car title

BMW's award-winning Efficient Dynamics programme has been honoured with a global title.

A jury consisting of 47 motor journalists from 24 countries has awarded the BMW 118d, a model that displays all currently available aspects of EfficientDynamics technology, with the "World Green Car of the Year" at the New York International Auto Show 2008.

Judges of the World Car of the Year Awards praised BMW and its 118d for offering buyers a model with a range of innovative technologies that reduce fuel consumption and cut CO2 emissions as standard. The three and five-door BMW 118d record an impressive 62.8mpg on the combined cycle with CO2 emissions of just 119g/km – putting it into the Band B category for Vehicle Excise Duty. The BMW 118d costs just £35 a year to tax.

To help it achieve these impressive figures, EfficientDynamics technologies such as brake energy regeneration and auto start-stop are employed to cut fuel bills and emissions. An optimum gearshift change indicator is included to encourage economical motoring too.

Tom Purves, chairman and CEO of BMW of North America, said: "BMW is very excited that the 118d with Efficient Dynamics won the World Green Car title. The measures that we've implemented within our EfficientDynamics strategy into every model mean that we're able to provide customers with the driving pleasure they expect from a BMW, while still meeting the stringent requirements for fuel-efficiency and low emissions."

The award has cemented BMW as the world's leading producer of environmentally friendly premium cars and comes swiftly after BMW received recognition for EfficientDynamics by winning similar 'green' awards in the UK and abroad. What Car? and CAR magazine 'Green Awards' and the Fleet News Environmental Award were presented in the UK. A host of other European publications and organisations, including the coveted Auto 1 Innovation Award presented during the Geneva Motor Show, have also been bestowed on BMW.

Judges of the World Car awards previously presented BMW with the World Car of the Year honour for the 3 Series model range in 2006. This time the BMW 118d was chosen ahead of 10 other environmentally friendly production vehicles for the World Green Car of the Year. The Mercedes-Benz Smart fortwo cdi and the Volkswagen Passat 1.9 TDI were the other top contenders.

■ THE BMW 118D . . . EfficientDynamics helped the premium hatchback win environmental title.

■ PARKING AID . . . from JML Direct.

Retro-fit parking sensor out

PARKING in a tight spot is all well and good if your car is fitted with the latest sensor technology.

Those of us with older models can now thank JML for its Parking Sensor which alerts you when next door's Mondeo is too close for comfort!

Parking has recently become more of an issue in built-up urban areas – we now park in tiny spaces. The JML Parking Sensor will ensure you don't damage your car or other parked cars while you squeeze in to those ever-so-small gaps.

It's easy to install and remove – there's no need for drilling or damaging your car. Simply plug in to your cigarette adaptor or install three AA batteries. The unit beeps if you are close to another vehicle or obstacle, with the beeping rate increasing as you get closer, warning you to stop. Once you are parked the Parking Sensor turns itself off.

Now you can park with confidence and peace of mind with the JML Parking Sensor only £29.99, available from JML Direct TV on Channel 631, by phone on 0871 2222 631 and www.jmldirect.com

Nissan Cube concept goes green

NEW York City is about to get a lesson in what happens when geography meets geometry – specifically, when the world, which is round, meets the Nissan Cube, which is essentially square.

The occasion is the world debut of the Nissan Denki (Japanese for "electric") Cube Concept at the New York International Auto Show.

■ DENKI CUBE . . . but spacious Nissan isn't aerodynamic!

The lithium-ion battery-powered Denki Cube electric vehicle concept was created to draw attention to Nissan's environmental efforts.

Styling treatments, include a new "electric themed" front grille design with an AC power charging port, a radical "lightning" headlight design and new bumpers and indicators. In the rear, the signature Cube asymmetrical rear quarter area (with wraparound glass on one side) has been enhanced by a new bumper with hidden rear lights. The roof sheet metal has been replaced with a full fixed glass panel too. The Denki Cube Concept exterior also features new door mirrors, unique 16-inch wheel covers and special white pearl paint.

MOTORING

Higher quality Accord is sure to hold more value

EUROTAXGLASS'S, publisher of the UK motor trade's car valuation benchmark, Glass's Guide, says used-value prospects for the new Honda Accord look good.

Honda hopes that its all-new Accord will take the brand another step towards joining the elite trio of BMW, Audi and Mercedes-Benz in the prestige saloon market.

And residual values for the new model will be stronger than its predecessor's, according to EurotaxGlass's.

"The new Accord has a more premium feel inside and out. The appearance is more aggressive, particularly on the GT-badged models, though the design remains evolutionary rather than revolutionary," says Jason King, the publisher's head of market intelligence.

"A range of new diesel engines will enhance the car's appeal, and Honda has even set the driver's seat lower in the cabin to suit European customer preference," states King.

"Significantly, the price of the entry-level model has increased by £2,000, an indication of Honda's intention to take on higher-priced marques."

King believes the Accord continues Honda's progress in challenging established sector leaders: "With the latest Accord, Honda advances its case to be considered as more than just another mainstream carmaker.

"It now sits alongside the likes of Lexus, whose brand is more aspirational and whose vehicles are designed to be considered as rivals for the long-standing sector leaders," concludes King.

■ SAFE BET . . . new Honda Accord will retain more of its cost than current model.

EurotaxGlass's forecasts that, despite the price increase, the new Accord will retain a greater proportion of its cost new than the outgoing version, with the 2.2i-DTEC ES GT model predicted to hold on to 43 per cent of its list price after three years and 60,000 miles.

GSL

Prisoner Custody Officers Cambridge Courts

£17,024 pa • Average 40 hours

GSL Court Services provides essential services at courts and transports over half a million people a year between courts, prisons and police stations.

Maintaining security, conducting searches, accompanying people in court, dealing with people and their property within the court system and completing documentation are just a few of the things you'll do in this busy role.

Being a Prisoner Custody Officer (PCO) isn't just about keeping people behind bars or driving them from A to B in secure vehicles. It's also about being vigilant, versatile, non-judgmental, disciplined and treating people with respect and consideration.

If you can remain calm under pressure, adapt to changing situations and have a full UK driving licence along with the ability to work one in three Saturdays, you could train for a career that's both challenging and rewarding.

If you think you've got what it takes to be a PCO, call us now on: 01909 504070 Mon-Fri, 8.30am-6.00pm quoting ref: CEPC04 by 11th April 2008.

From Housing to Supported Living, Granta has long developed specialist accommodation for those needing care and assistance. Over 400 care staff work across the Eastern Region, complementing their professionalism and integrity with an innate ability to listen to what each resident has to say, whilst also meeting their needs 24 hours a day.

Granta Housing Society

PROJECT WORKER (REF: 027)
£15,009 - £16,296 PA DEPENDING ON EXPERIENCE AND NVQ QUALIFICATIONS (PAY AWARD PENDING)
BURWELL, CAMBRIDGE

With dignity and choice high on your list of priorities, you'll carry out a variety of care duties for residents, and help assess their individual needs. This will involve assisting with living skills – including meal preparation and intimate personal care tasks – as well as acting as keyworker to certain members, who you'll occasionally accompany on excursions away from the project.

If you can communicate well with others, and have a positive attitude and reliable disposition, we would like to hear from you. Experience of working with people with care needs, in either a paid or voluntary capacity, would be a plus, as would basic computer skills.

The role involves moving and handling duties (for which training is given) and working a rota system (usually a flexible shift pattern including weekends, and some sleep-in duties).

GLOBAL BUSINESS LOCAL OPPORTUNITIES

JDR Umbilical Systems

Littleport Innovation Park,
Littleport, Cambridgeshire
CB6 1RA

JDR Umbilical Systems is internationally acknowledged as one of the most successful innovators of subsea umbilical package solutions for worldwide offshore oil and gas operations, and subsea power cables for the renewable energy sector. We have operations in the UK, Thailand, Houston, and Norway and we are continuously investing in people, equipment and facilities.

Project Management

Our project management teams work closely with our customers, design engineers and manufacturing operations to control projects ranging in value from £100k to over £8million.

These new appointments would suit individuals considering a career change into a professional, commercial environment, where you will be trained and mentored to manage projects which are extremely challenging and technically ground-breaking. Previous experience of Project or Contracts Management is not essential, but we do expect applicants to have drive, initiative and an astute commercial awareness, together with a desire to be involved with highly engineered solutions.

Proposals Management

Do you have proposals preparation and customer liaison experience of high value, highly engineered products? If you do, this new vacancy for a Proposals Engineer to join our Proposals Team could be a real and exciting opportunity for you.

Whilst experience of the offshore oil and gas industries is not necessary, a sound understanding of bid preparation for high value proposals; an interest and understanding of engineered products, and of course, the real "buzz" we would expect you to get from achieving your objective – the placement of the order – is crucial to this role.

Please visit www.jdrcables.com and then email your CV to chris.donne@jdrcables.com or call him for an exploratory discussion on 01798 865735. Local interviews will be arranged outside working hours for suitable candidates.

Cambridge Consultants

Good enough to play with the big boys?

Cambridge Consultants has a world-class reputation. Some might even say that our wireless engineers are second to none. We work with the best and we only recruit the best. Sure, that sounds more than a little arrogant (although our corporate culture is anything but – most of our engineers are modest and unassuming). But the truth is we have a track record for creating more than our fair share of world firsts.

We currently have a number of vacancies for seriously good wireless engineers. Engineers that feel comfortable working as part of a team with outstanding skill.

So what's in it for you? Well, we offer you a truly stimulating environment, brilliant colleagues, interesting and varied work, career progression if you prove yourself, and a great remuneration package to boot.

To find out whether we have the job for you see www.jobs-in-wireless.co.uk. Alternatively call Alison Hughes on 01223 420024 for a no commitment, informal, chat.

Syngenta employs over 21,000 people in more than 90 countries.

Laboratory Technician
Attractive salary & benefits · Whittlesford, Cambridge

This is a full time vacancy for a highly motivated technician to join a small dedicated team involved in the production of doubled haploid wheat and barley for our European breeding programmes.

This is a demanding role involving tissue culture, media preparation, good laboratory house keeping and a range of glasshouse activities.

You will be keen to develop your skills in this area and will have some previous laboratory experience. As a proven team player you will be able to demonstrate a calm and methodical approach, have a keen eye for detail and an interest in plants. Full training will be given.

Assistant Secretary
Competitive salary + benefits · Fulbourn, Cambridge

We've just moved into brand new, open plan offices here in Fulbourn... and created a new role that you'll be able to make your own. Providing admin support to our seeds business, you'll deal with enquiries to the office, organise travel, arrange meetings, look after diaries and generally help out on different projects.

We're looking for knowledge of Word, Excel, PowerPoint and Outlook, and a good typing speed (ideally RSA level 2). Able to communicate well both verbally and in writing, you'll need a friendly and professional 'can do' approach.

In return, you can look forward to an attractive rewards package and excellent opportunities for career development.

To apply, please send your CV together with covering letter to HR Manager, Syngenta Seeds Ltd, 17 Summerwood Lane, Halsall, Lancashire, L39 8TH.

Closing date for applications: 4th April 2008.

Challinor double helps Newmarket to best win

UNDER-EIGHT

Newmarket 20 Bury St Edmunds 20

SAM McNaughton scored a late try to ensure that Harry Robbins' hat-trick was not in a losing cause. Newmarket took advantage of two turnovers to set up Robbins for two tries in the first half, but two Bury tries in the early stages of the second period gave them the advantage. Robbins levelled but McNaughton squared matters again after their rivals went ahead.

Newmarket 15 Bury 25

ELLIOTT Parr scored all Newmarket's tries as Bury finally broke the deadlock in a tight first half and never looked back.

They were two tries ahead at half time and although Parr scored the first of his hat-trick to cut the arrears, Newmarket appeared to lose their way and and shipped three quick tries to kill the game.

Newmarket 25 Bury 25

NEWMARKET took advantage of errors to claw their way back into the game after Bury scored two quick tries. Joshua Dadds pulled one back but a third Bury try before the break looked to be pivotal. However, Robbins and Sam Nash cashed in on mistakes to bring Newmarket back into the game, only for their opponents to run in two further scores.

Crisp passing put McNaughton in for a try and Robbins collected Parr's lofted pass to equalise from the final play of the day.

UNDER-10

Newmarket 0

Bury St Edmunds A 25

AGAINST a larger and faster side, Newmarket had to rely on some heroic defensive work to prevent a heavier defeat.

Newmarket 5 Bury St Edmunds B 15

DESPITE the result, this was a much better display by Newmarket, whose forwards disrupted Bury's game plan.

Outstanding play from George Brown and Aiden Curry at the breakdown led to Nathan Chandler opening the scoring, but injuries took their toll and Newmarket conceded three late tries.

UNDER-11

Newmarket 21 Bury St Edmunds A 14

ALTHOUGH Newmarket made a good start, Bury caught them on the break to take the lead.

However, Jack Barker spotted a gap in the defence to level and Bob Challinor took advantage of the pressure exerted by the pack to make the scores 14-7 at half time. Bury played their best rugby of the game after the break and, despite the efforts of Ben Bowers an Ben North, they equalised.

But the Newmarket forwards turned the screw again and James Pritchard crashed over for the winning score.

Newmarket 21 Bury St Edmunds B 0

THIS was rated as Newmarket's best result of the season, the improving side linking well to launch multi-phase moves from all areas of the pitch.

Richard Phillips and Challinor scored tries after the forwards had done all the hard work, while at the other end, Newmarket kept cool under pressure.

The scoreline was given added gloss when Challinor went over again after another strong forward drive.

UNDER-12

Newmarket 7 Bury St Edmunds A 26

DESPITE crashing by four tries to one, Newmarket put up a good display and were denied further points by a couple of try-saving tackles.

Ian Moffatt's touch down, converted by Oliver Green, equalised Bury's early score and accounted for their points.

Newmarket 21

Bury St Edmunds B 7

THE realisation that they had been unlucky in the first game gave Newmarket confidence for the second encounter and they were able to build on a scoreless first half. Scrum-half Lewis Heap broke the deadlock early in the second half – he also kicked the conversion – and an excellent drive from the forwards led to Daniel Bristow adding the second.

And although they were denied a third try when the ball was held up over the line, Thomas Locke scored a cracking try to seal the win.

Tigers can't stop Bandits

Mildenhall Fen Tigers 29 Berwick 61

PREMIER LEAGUE

MILDENHALL suffered a disastrous start to their Premier League campaign last night with a comprehensive thrashing by Berwick.

The Fen Tigers had hoped to put three heavy away trophy defeats behind them in their West Row opener, but after keeping pace with their opponents for the first six races, the Bandits slammed in a succession of five maximum heat advantages that put the result beyond any doubt by heat 12.

Bandits' No 1, Adrian Rymel, made his intentions clear by taking the opening race in 50 seconds, setting the quickest Premier League time around West Row, before home guest John Oliver won the Tigers' first of only two race victories in heat three.

With the scores at 17-19, the rot started to set in at heat seven when reserve Mark Baseby fell entering the pits turn of the last lap as he hunted down the Bandits duo. Michal Makovsky and Norbert Magosi teamed up to add two further maximums in heats eight and nine, putting the Bandits 34-20 ahead.

Finn Kaj Laukkanen was nominated for a tactical ride in the next race, but when he failed to make the tapes after his seat bracket broke, the tension on the terraces grew.

In heat 12, Henning Bager edged ahead of Jan Graversen on the third turn. A couple of pursuing laps later and Graversen aggressively powered under Bager on the pits turn, only for Bager to superbly switch lines and dive back under the Dane to win.

Another cracking race followed, with Laukkanen ending the maximum hopes of Rymel and Makovsky as he sliced under each on consecutive laps in a classy third-to-first move. Baseby, in his all-action style, raced past Adam McKinna on the second lap of the penultimate race to split the Berwick pairing, only to lose concentration on the final bend and clip the fence.

Tigers team boss Laurence Rogers said: "We were outgated every time and although we had some problems in the pits, that's no excuse."

Mildenhall – Oliver 7+1 (5), Laukkanen 6+1 (5), Graversen 6+1 (5), Baseby 5 (6), Cockle 3 (4), Wortmann 2 (5).

Berwick – Rymel 14 (5), Makovsky 13+4 (6), Aarnio 10+2 (5), Bager 10+1 (4), Magosi 10 (6), McKinna 4+1 (4).

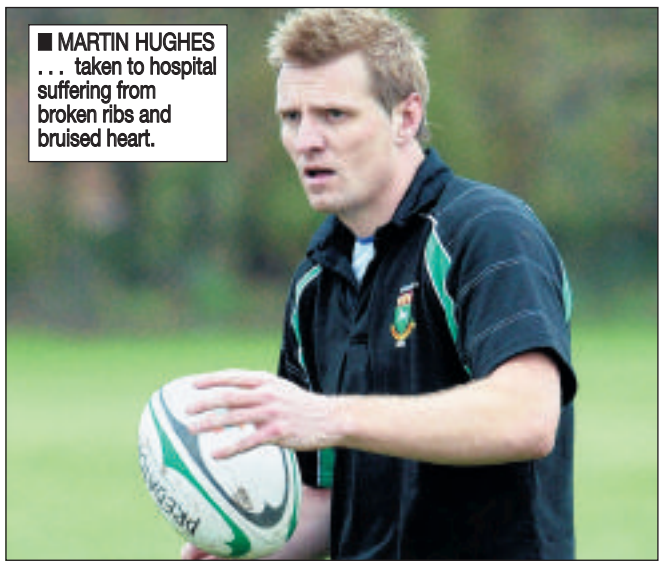
Skipper hurt in try blitz



■ MARTIN HUGHES ... taken to hospital suffering from broken ribs and bruised heart.

RICHARD Harper powered over for a hat-trick of tries as Newmarket jumped into second place in the table.

The No 8 laid the foundations for the points blitz, with winger Josh Parry going over twice. Lewis Smith, Alistair Walker, Richard Conway, Stephen Green, Owen Wilson, Nick Payne and debut-making Michael Fox also got on the scoresheet.

Green kicked five conversions. However, there was a blow for Newmarket with an injury to skipper Martin Hughes.

In the act of scoring his try after 10 minutes, he slid over in the corner and someone fell on top of him, catching him in the chest.

Hughes was taken to hospital with broken ribs and a bruised heart, and is likely to be ruled out for the rest of the season.

But with two matches remaining – at home to Broadland and away to Swaffham – Newmarket are within two victories of promotion after Southwold's defeat to Swaffham at the weekend.

CAMBS WOMEN'S LEAGUE, PREMIER DIVISION

CHAMPIONS Newmarket overcame a lacklustre start to complete an unbeaten league campaign.

They finished the game in full flow, however, bidding farewell to the league – they will play in the East League next season – with the style of hockey which typified their season.

However, they needed some smart stops from keeper Sue Edwards and some solid defensive work to keep the scoreline blank at half time.

After the break, though, they started to play with more zip, using simple but effective tactics.

Hayley Stoneman, named player of the match, looked sharp and Gail McDonnell, making a rare appearance up front, was unlucky not to score.

The goals eventually came from Tania Parker, who scored her first goal for Town and Beth Wombwell.

SKIPPER HURT IN TRY BLITZ – Page 63

Pearce knows this could be the Dayia for improving filly

Racing by Peter Scargill

THIS weekend the masses will head to the bookies to have their annual flutter on the iconic Grand National at Aintree.

However, the shrewd punter will be keeping his money away from the four-and-a-half-mile marathon and instead be eyeing the improving filly Dayia in the Grade Two John Smith's Champion National Hunt Flat Race on the same card.

It's an ambitious target considering there is a similar race for mares the day before, but her trainer Jeff Pearce explained: "She would have to give 7lb in the mares' race but gets a 7lb allowance in the Champion Bumper and I would be 60-40 to take that option."

And Pearce certainly knows the time of day when it comes to readying a horse for Aintree.

His two biggest successes to date have both come at the National meeting, Burn Out winning the Champion Bumper and Tervel succeeding in a Grade Two contest.

But how did this Flat-bred daughter of Act One, from a predominately Flat yard end up running in bumpers?

"She's a big, leggy filly and you can use these bumpers to give them an easy education," says Pearce, adding, "It's hard to find a maiden on the Flat that isn't dominated by Sheikh Mohammed!"

To date, the plan has paid off. Starting unfancied at 33-1 for her first start at Huntingdon she dotted up before following up by a head in a Listed Mares' event at Sandown.

Understandably all this has delighted the filly's owner Lady Green, who owns Stutton Mill Stud near Ipswich. Unlike all her racehorses beforehand, Lady Green bought the filly on a whim from Tattersalls in Newmarket.

She said: "I was having lunch and I saw this filly badly misbehaving and decided I had to have her. I got in the ring just before they put the hammer down, made one bid and that was it."

It appears that Pearce will not be hiding his star filly's light under any bushels – big plans are already forming.

"Please God she wins at Aintree," he said, "and if she's all right she'll go for the Champion Bumper at Punchestown.

"After that she'll have a short break, go for a maiden on the Flat and then go for some 'Cup races'. She could even make up into an Ebor horse next season."

The plans for Pearce's flagship filly may not be as pie-in-the-sky as they first appear. Another classy filly, Turbo Linn progressed from bumpers to land the Group Two HBLB Lancashire Oaks last season.

So is Dayia the next Turbo Linn?

"Yes," said Pearce immediately. "I think she's a very good filly."

Victoria's agony

CYCLING: Defending champion Victoria Pendleton missed a golden hat-trick when she had to settle for the silver medal in the final of the keirin at the Track Cycling World Championships in Manchester.

The 27-year-old member of the Mildenhall club had looked imperious in the rounds, but got her tactics wrong in the final, finishing second behind the USA's Jennie Reed.

Pendleton, who had earlier won gold medals in both the team and individual sprints, said: "I used a slightly bigger gear in the final, but I lost my balance and rhythm for a split second."

However, Ross Edgar's hopes of adding to his silver in the men's team sprint with Chris Hoy and Jamie Staff last Wednesday came to nothing in the keirin. The Newmarket rider won his first round heat, but missed a place in the final after finishing fourth in the second round. He was eighth overall after finishing runner-up to Australia's Shane Kelly in the B final.

Caine's double

MOTORSPORT: Newmarket racing driver Michael Caine believes that his first two race wins in the Porsche Carrera Cup GB will be the foundation for a serious bid for the 2008 title, despite only confirming his plans a week before the opening races at Brands Hatch last weekend.

"It was a late deal," said Caine, who had been on the podium 15 times before registering his first win on Saturday and following up 24 hours later. "All my sponsors wanted to do Carrera Cup, which was fantastic, but it was just getting the money together. I'd have been like a bear with a sore head if I'd not been racing this weekend."

Starling's soaring

ATHLETICS: Cathryn Starling was the first woman home in the inaugural running of the Linton 5k. The Newmarket Jogger's debut win was the top performance from a good turn-out from the club, with Jenny O'Callaghan also finishing well while Vince Coogan was the fifth male home.

Elite runner Ben Blowes clocked a personal best 63min 0.1sec when he was 23rd in the 400-runner Sandy 10-mile race, which bodes well for a good time in next weekend's London Marathon.

The Joggers have arranged a coach for runners and spectators to travel to the marathon a week on Sunday. Further details from Jenny O'Callaghan on 07980 897585 or jenny@tristel.com

FOOTBALL: RIDGEONS LEAGUE ROUND-UP

Jockeys' boss hits out at inconsistent ref

Harwich 1 Newmarket 1

RIDGEONS LEAGUE, PREMIER DIVISION

KARL Johnson was left fuming by the referee as Newmarket had to battle away with 10 men for more than an hour.

The Jockeys were awarded a penalty after just 10 minutes when Mark Angel was fouled, but Harwich kept 11 players on the field, despite the challenge coming from the last man.

Angel stepped up to convert but Newmarket were punished for a handling offence in the box 10 minutes later. This time the official showed the offender, Dan Hollyoake, a straight red.

Harwich converted the penalty, and Jockeys' boss Johnson said: "I have no problems with our man being sent off, but I don't understand why the referee didn't show their player a red too. It cost us the game because they wouldn't have been able to handle us with 11 players on the pitch."

And the Jockeys – who are at Haverhill Rovers on Tuesday – gave their chances of beating the drop another boost on Tuesday when they crushed Harwich 4-0, the goals coming from Angel (2), John Olive and Alex Watson.

Mildenhall 0 Soham 3

RIDGEONS LEAGUE, PREMIER DIVISION

THE derby turned against Mildenhall in the second half when Darren Jimson opened the scoring on the hour while Hall midfielder Lewis Baillie was on the sidelines getting treatment for a facial injury.

Baillie returned and gave away a free kick out of frustration from which Jimson scored again.

Rangers had substitute Martin McNeil sent off for a foul but still managed a third from Charles Libam.

Mildenhall's joint-manager Tony Lyes said: "We're trying a few things as the season draws to a close and maybe we got that wrong on Saturday, but we weren't helped by the loss of Lewis while he waited for the officials to make sure his shirt had no blood on it."

Mildenhall return to Premier Division action on Saturday with a clash against CRC at Recreation Way.
